The half day silver event allows for more time to practise and to sharpen all knives for two scheduled races. After a robust training session where you, more or less, learn to handle the boat by yourselves, we serve a robust lunch and allow time for some psychological warfare before heading out on the race course. Two races might end up in a tie and a final third start that definitely decides the winner and the destiny of the trophy. Both teams will get framed team photos to bring back home.

The gold event is obviously the top event with lots of extras. It's a whole day of training, racing and socializing. This much training sets high expectations on all participants and we might even start hoisting some of our gigantic downwind sails? The program consists of full catering, team fabrics, three races, medals for all and a massive trophy for the team that manages to outpace the opponent. There are plenty of after sail options as saunas, delivery to some of the best seaside restaurants or why not hang around and enjoy the atmosphere having a few well deserved drinks at the boats while going through all tricky situations at the race course? Gold is always gold, where will the coveted trophy end up this time? 🏆

All events can host a maximum of 20 people on the racing boats. Upon request we can place much larger groups as spectators on follow me boats.
